The Thirteenth Semi-Annual Court was held at the University Club, November 26, 1910.

The Eighteenth General Court was held at the Laurel-in-the-Pines, Lakewood, May 5, 1911.

BERGEN CELEBRATION.

The 250th Anniversary of the Founding of the village of Bergen (now part of Jersey City) in 1660 was the occasion of a celebration in that city, beginning on Sunday, October 16th, 1910, and lasting until Sunday, October 23rd, 1910, and centering in a large measure around the Bergen Reformed Church, of which the Reverend Cornelius Brett, D.D., the Chaplain of this society, is the pastor.

Tuesday, October 18th, 1910, was set apart for a congress of the ancestral and patriotic societies of New Jersey, held under the auspices of the SOCIETY OF COLONIAL WARS IN THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY. A special Committee, consisting of the Rev. Dr. Brett, as Chairman, William Frederick Dix, Governor of the Society, Hon. Charles W. Parker, Professor William Libbey, Robert Munro Boyd, Jr., and John Lenord Merrill, the Secretary of the Society, planned and conducted the exercises of the day, which consisted of a reception at the Carteret Club at 11.30 A.M., luncheon at 12.30 P.M. in the parlors of the church, the hostesses being the Ladies Aid Society of the Church and resident lady members of the patriotic societies. At 2.30 P.M. the various societies assembled in the Fourth Regiment Armory under the leadership of Colonel William Libbey, as Marshal, and proceeded across Bergen Avenue to the Church, where the formal exercises took place. These consisted of a short address of welcome by the Hon. Charles Wolcott Parker, of the Supreme Court of New Jersey, responded to by His Excellency, the Governor of the Society, William Frederick Dix; invocation by the Rev. William Force Whitaker, D.D., of Elizabeth; speeches by the Governor of New Jersey, Hon. John Franklin Fort, and the Mayor of Jersey City, Hon. H. Otto Wittpenn, and a historical sketch by Dr. Brett, together with the singing of suitable patriotic hymns, the exercises concluding about 4.30 P.M.

It is fitting to acknowledge at this time the courtesy and hospitality of the citizens of New Jersey, especially the members of the Carteret Club, who threw open their house for our use; of the officers of the Fourth Regiment who did the same with the Armory; and of the Bergen Reformed Church whose officers and members spared no pains to make the occasion a success and whose Pastor, Dr. Brett, was the efficient and successful moving spirit of the entire day.

SITE OF SOMERSET COURT HOUSE.

On Tuesday afternoon, November 15th, 1910, the Reformed Church of Franklin Park, some six miles southwest of New Brunswick, celebrated the bi-centennial of its organization and as this place was the site of the first court house of Somerset County, dating back to 1716, it was decided to instal a marking stone with bronze tablet upon the same date as the church celebration. A Committee, consisting of the Hon. Charles Wolcott Parker, Chairman, Dr. Henry A. Griffin, Prof. William Libbey and the Secretary, procured a handsome bronze tablet and in coöperation with a Committee of the Somerset Historical Society, which located the site with accuracy and furnished and set the marking stone, completed the work in time to unveil the monument on the day mentioned, during an intermission in the church celebration. (A photograph of the tablet is inserted in this book.)

Mr. A. V. D. Honeyman, of Plainfield, prepared an interesting address and a short programme had been arranged, but on account of the inclemency of the weather and the limited time available the exercises were very brief.

Constitution
OF THE
Society of Colonial Wars
IN THE State of New Jersey

CONSTITUTION.

PREAMBLE.

Whereas, It is eminently proper that the prominent events of our Colonial history from the settlement of Jamestown, Va., May 13, 1607, to the battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775, should be duly commemorated, and,

Whereas, Our forefathers, following the dictates of their consciences, and in order to secure civil and religious liberty, imperiled their lives in the founding and maintenance of the Colonies of America, and,

Whereas, The embodiment of their fundamental ideas is our Declaration of Independence, and the final result of their labors is the United States of America,

Now, therefore, we, their descendants, in order to perpetuate the memory of our ancestors, and to preserve for all times the names and deeds of those who, by their acts and counsel, assisted in the establishment and maintenance of the American Colonies, do hereby constitute ourselves the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New Jersey, to the end that it may collect and preserve the manuscripts, records, and other documents relating to that period, that it may inspire its members and their descendants with the fraternal and patriotic spirit of their forefathers, and that it may perpetuate those national characteristics by which alone the unity and liberty of our country have been secured, and by which alone they can be maintained and preserved.

ARTICLE I.

NAME OF THE SOCIETY.

This Society shall be known by the name and title of the "Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New Jersey."

ARTICLE II.

MEMBERSHIP.

Any male person above the age of twenty-one years, of good moral character and reputation, shall be eligible to membership in the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New Jersey, who is lineally descended in the male or female line from an ancestor:

(1) Who served as a military or naval officer, or as a soldier, sailor, or marine, or as a privateersman under authority of the Colonies which afterwards formed the United States of America, or in the forces of Great Britain which participated with those of the said Colonies in any wars in which the said Colonies were engaged, or in which they enrolled men, from the date of the settlement of Jamestown, May 13, 1607, to the date of the battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775; or,

(2) Who held office in any of the Colonies between the dates above mentioned, either as

(a) Director-General, Vice-Director-General, or member of the Council, in the Colony of New Netherlands.

(b) Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, or Deputy-Governor, Lord Proprietor, member of the King's or Governor's Council, in the Colonies of New York, New Jersey, Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Delaware, and Member of the Assembly in the Colony of New Jersey.

(c) Lord Proprietor, Governor, Deputy-Governor, or Member of the Council in Maryland and the Carolinas.

(d) Governor, Deputy-Governor, Governor's Assistant, or Commissioner to the United Colonies of New England, Members of the Council, or body of Assistants, in any of the New England Colonies.

(e) Membership shall be hereditary in the male line of the present members of this Society and of those who may hereafter be elected, subject to the vote of the Council upon the moral qualifications of the persons who may be the heir at any time to such member.

There shall be paid into the treasury of the Society by such person so admitted a sum equal to one-half of the usual initiation fee.

There shall be no honorary memberships in the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New Jersey, but the Council may, from time to time, remit the annual dues of a worthy member of the Society, by a majority vote of the members present at such meeting of the Council.¹

ARTICLE III.

INITIATION FEES AND DUES.

The initiation fee shall be fifteen dollars, the annual dues ten dollars, payable on the first day of June of each year. The payment at one time of one hundred dollars shall thenceforth exempt the member so paying from the payment of annual dues.

¹ The dues of the clerical members have been fixed by the Council at five dollars annually.

ARTICLE IV.

OFFICERS.

The officers of the Society shall be a Governor, a Deputy-Governor, a Lieutenant-Governor, a Secretary, a Treasurer, a Registrar, an Historian, a Chaplain, a Chancellor, and a Surgeon.

ARTICLE V.

THE COUNCIL AND COMMITTEES.

SECTION 1. Council.—The Council of this Society shall consist of the officers of the Society named in Article IV, the Ex-Governors of this Society, the General Officers, Resident Members of the New Jersey Society, Officers of the Society who have served in any one office for ten consecutive years, and nine members, who shall be called Gentlemen of the Council, three of whom shall be elected annually, as hereinafter provided.

The Officers, Gentlemen of the Council and Committees in office at the adoption of this Constitution shall continue to serve until the expiration of their respective terms of office.

SECTION 2. Committees.—At the first meeting of the Council, after the election of officers in each year, the Council shall appoint—

(a) A Committee on Membership, consisting of seven members, viz., the Registrar, three members from the Council and three members from the Society-at-large.

(b) A Committee on the Collection of Historical Documents, consisting of seven members, of whom the Historian shall be one.

(c) A Committee on Nominations, consisting of seven members.

It shall be the duty of the Committee on Nominations to report to the Secretary at least one month before the General Court, held in May each year, a list of names to be voted upon at the ensuing election.

It shall be the duty of the Secretary to send, at least two weeks before such General Court, to each member of the Society, a notice of the meeting, together with a list of nominations.

But nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent any further nominations by any member.

ARTICLE VI.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND GENTLEMEN OF THE COUNCIL.

The officers above named, except the Deputy-Governor-General, together with three Gentlemen of the Council, shall be elected annually by ballot at the General Court of the Society in the month of May. A majority of the votes cast shall elect, and said officers shall serve for the period of one year, and until their successors shall be duly elected and qualified, and said Gentlemen of the Council shall serve for three years.

Vacancies in the Council, caused by death, resignation, or otherwise, shall be filled for the residue of the current year by the Council, at a regular meeting or at a special meeting called therefor. If the vacancy so filled shall be that of a Gentleman of the Council, whose term would have extended beyond the current year, the next annual General Court shall fill vacancy for the balance of the unexpired term. And should any member other than an officer be absent from three consecutive meetings of the Council, his place may be declared vacant by the Council and filled as above provided.

ARTICLE VII.

GOVERNOR.

The Governor, or in his absence, the Deputy-Governor, or in the absence of both, the Lieutenant-Governor, shall represent the Society in the interim between the regular meetings of the Council. He shall preside at all Courts of the Society and at meetings of the Council. The Governor shall be a member, ex-officio, of all Committees except the Committee on Nominations.

He shall have power, in his discretion, to convene special meetings of the Council or of the General Court, and must do the former on the written request of five members of the Council, and the latter on the written request of seven members of the Society.

ARTICLE VIII.

SECRETARY.

The Secretary shall conduct the general correspondence of the Society, and keep a record thereof. He shall notify, in writing, candidates of their election, and perform such other duties as the Society or his office may require. He shall have charge of the seal, certificate of incorporation, by-laws, historical and other documents and records of the Society other than those required to be deposited with the Registrar, and shall affix the seal to all properly authenticated certificates of membership and transmit the same to the members to whom they may be issued. He shall notify the Registrar of all admissions to membership. He shall certify all acts of the Society, and, when required, authenticate them under seal. He shall have charge of printing and of publications issued by the Society. He shall give due notice of the time and place of the holding of all Courts of the Society and of meetings of the Council, and shall incorporate in said notice the names of all applications for membership, to be voted on at said meetings of the Council, and shall be present at the same. He shall keep fair and accurate records of all the proceedings and orders of the Society and Council, and shall give notice to each officer who may be affected by them of all votes, resolutions and proceedings of the Society or of the Council, and at the General Court or oftener, shall report the names of those candidates who have been admitted to membership and those whose resignations have been accepted, and of those members who have been expelled for cause, or for failure to substantiate claims of descent. In his absence from any meeting, a Secretary pro tem may be designated therefor.

ARTICLE IX.

TREASURER.

The Treasurer shall collect and keep the funds and securities of the Society, and shall deposit them in some bank, which shall be designated by the Council, to the credit of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New Jersey, and such funds shall be drawn thence on the checks of the Treasurer for the purpose of the Society only. Out of these funds he shall pay such sums only as may be ordered by the Society or Council or as his office may require. He shall keep a true account of his receipts and payments, and at each annual meeting render the same to the Society. For the faithful performance of his duty he may be required to give such security as the Society may deem proper.

ARTICLE X.

REGISTRAR.

The Registrar shall receive from the Secretary and file all the applications and proofs upon which membership has been granted, with a list of all diplomas countersigned by him, and all documents which the council may direct; and he, under the direction of the Council, shall make and retain copies of such papers as the owners may not be willing to leave in the keeping of the Society. He shall also be a member of the Committee on Membership.

ARTICLE XI.

HISTORIAN.

The Historian shall keep a detailed record of all historical and commemorative celebrations of the Society and he shall edit and prepare, for publication, such historical addresses, papers and other documents as the Society may see fit to publish; also a necrological list of each year, with biographies of deceased members. He shall also be a member of the Committee on Collection of Historical Documents.

ARTICLE XII.

CHAPLAIN.

The Chaplain shall be an ordained minister of a Christian Church, and it shall be his duty to officiate when called upon by the proper officers.

ARTICLE XIII.

CHANCELLOR.

The Chancellor shall be a lawyer duly admitted to the bar, and it shall be his duty to give legal opinion on matters affecting the Society when called upon by the proper officers.

ARTICLE XIV.

SURGEON.

The Surgeon shall be a practising Physician, or hold a diploma from some College of Medicine of established reputation.

ARTICLE XV.

ELECTION OF MEMBERS.

Members shall be elected as follows:

A candidate must be proposed to the Council by one member of the Society, and seconded by another, to both of whom he must be personally known. Such proposal shall give the name and service of the ancestor, on descent from whom the candidate bases his claim for admission to the Society. No member shall, without consent of the Council, propose more than two candidates in any calendar year.

If the Council approve the candidacy by vote of at least four-fifths of the members present, and not otherwise, it shall direct the Secretary to forward to the proposer, or to the candidate direct, formal application papers, which, when properly filled up and sworn to by the applicant, shall be sent, with such documents or other proof of qualification as the case may require, to the Secretary, who shall transmit them to the Committee on Membership.

The Committee shall carefully investigate the same. If there is any doubt as to the applicant's ancestral qualifications, the case shall be referred by the Committee to the Registrar-General of the General Society for advice. If the applicant be a resident within the jurisdiction of another State Society, his application for membership in this Society shall not be considered without a waiver of jurisdiction in writing from the Council of the State Society within whose jurisdiction he resides. When the Committee have arrived at a conclusion in the case, all the papers in the matter, together with their recommendations or conclusions, shall be forwarded to the Secretary for presentation to the Council, but no applicant shall be recommended for membership who is not personally known to at least one member of the Committee.

The Council may act upon a report of the Membership Committee at any special or stated meeting.

If the report of the Committee on Membership recommend the election of an applicant, then at least ten days before the meeting of the Council at which such application will be voted upon, the Secretary shall mail to each member of the Society the names of all such applicants, and any member having objection to the election of such proposed member may submit his objection in writing to the Secretary, who shall present the same for the consideration and information of the Council at their first meeting after the receipt of said information; all such communications and any and all matters pertaining thereto, shall be treated as confidential. An applicant for membership receiving two negative votes when such application is voted upon by the Council shall fail of election.

Payment of the initiation fee and dues and subscriptions to the Constitution of the General Society of Colonial Wars and to the Constitution and the By-laws of this Society shall be a prerequisite of membership.

Supplemental applications shall not be considered until the applicant has become a member of the Society, when supplemental lines of descent will be acted upon, subject to the above requirements as to eligibility.

ARTICLE XVI.

DECLARATION.

Every member shall declare upon honor that he will use his best efforts to promote the purposes of the Society of Colonial Wars, and will observe the "Constitution and By-laws" of the same, and of the General Society; and that he will support the Constitution of the United States of America, and of the State of New Jersey. Such declaration shall be in writing and subscribed by the member making it.

ARTICLE XVII.

PURPOSES.

At every General Court or meeting of the Council the purposes of the Society shall be considered, and the best measures to promote them adopted. No party political question of the day, or existing controversial religious subject, shall be discussed or considered at any Court of the Society or meeting of the Council.

ARTICLE XVIII.

MEETINGS.

The members of the Society, when practicable, shall hold a celebration commemorative of some martial event in Colonial history, and a banquet shall be held annually under the auspices of the Society.

ARTICLE XIX.

SEAL.

The seal of the Society shall be the Arms of the Province, surmounted by a crown, and described as follows:

Within a beaded amulet a title scroll 1607—Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New Jersey, 1775, and in base the motto "Fortiter Pro Patria." Over all a shield bearing the Provincial Arms of New Jersey, and surmounted by a crown.

The Secretary shall be the custodian of the Seal.

ARTICLE XX.

INSIGNIA.

SEC. 1. The insignia officially adopted by the General Society shall be worn as a decoration only, and in the manner prescribed by the General Society, and only on occasions of dress and ceremony, and never as an ornament or article of jewelry, and any member offending against the provisions of this article shall be liable to expulsion by the Council, in which case his insignia shall be forfeited, and must be returned to the Treasurer, who is authorized to pay such expelled member the cost of same.

SEC. 2. Applications for insignia shall be made through the Treasurer of this Society, who shall keep a record of all insignias issued through him.

SEC. 3. The insignia of any member who may resign or be expelled shall be returned to the Treasurer, except in the case where a member in good standing in this Society resigns therefrom, but retains his membership in any one of the other State Societies in good standing with the General Society. No member shall receive more than one insignia, except to replace one lost, proof of which must be satisfactorily established, and the new one paid for.

SEC. 4. The undress insignia shall be a rosette or button of the size designed and quality authorized and adopted by the General Society.¹

ARTICLE XXI.

FLAGS.

The flag of the Society shall consist of the red cross of St. George on a white field, bearing in the centre the escutcheon or seal of the Society.

ARTICLE XXII.

COURTS.

A general Court of the Society shall be held in the month of May in each year at such time and place as the Council shall decide. Seven members of the Society shall be a quorum for the transaction of all business, and the proceedings shall be in accordance with parliamentary law.

Special Courts may be called by the Governor at such time, and at such place, as in his opinion the interest of the Society may demand, or as provided for under Article VII.

Notices of the holding of Special Courts must be sent out at least six days before the date of the meeting of the Court.

THE ORDER OF BUSINESS SHALL BE AS FOLLOWS:

- First.* Calling to order by the Presiding Officer.
- Second.* Prayer by Chaplain.
- Third.* Reading of Minutes.
- Fourth.* Reports of Officers and Committees.
- Fifth.* Unfinished Business.

- Sixth.* New Business.
Seventh. Communications.
Eighth. Election of Officers and Committees.
Ninth. Benediction and Adjournment.

ARTICLE XXIII.

DELEGATES TO THE GENERAL SOCIETY.

At the Annual Court held in May, 1899, and at the Annual Court held in May every third year thereafter, this Society shall elect from its members five delegates and five alternates for a term of three years, and until their successors are elected, to represent this Society at all Courts of the General Society held during the term of office of such delegates and alternates. Any vacancy in the number of delegates by reason of death, resignation or otherwise shall be filled by the alternates in the order in which their names appeared in the ballot at their election, as transcribed in the minutes, and the Council shall have power to fill any vacancy in the number of alternates thus or otherwise caused, to serve until the next Court at which delegates and alternates are elected according to the provisions of this Article.

ARTICLE XXIV.

MEETINGS OF COUNCIL.

The Council shall meet in January, April, July, and October, at such time and place as they may appoint, either within or without the State of New Jersey. Five members shall constitute a quorum for all business.

The Council shall have the power to call special Courts of the Society and arrange for celebrations by the Society. They shall have control and management of the affairs and funds of the Society. They shall at no time be required to take any action or contract any debt for which they shall be liable. They may accept the resignation of any member of the Society.

They may submit to the Society annually a report of their proceedings during the past year. The Council shall have the power to drop from the roll the name of any member of the Society who shall be at least two years in arrears, and who shall fail to pay the same within sixty days after notice in writing, and, on being dropped, his membership shall cease; but he may be restored to membership at any time by the Council upon his written application and the payment of all arrears to the date of his restoration. The Council may suspend any officer for cause, which must be reported to the Society, and action taken on the same within thirty days by the Society.

ARTICLE XXV.

RESIGNATION.

The resignation of a member shall not become effective unless accepted by the Council.

ARTICLE XXVI.

DISQUALIFICATIONS.

Any person who may be enrolled as a member of this Society shall not be permitted to continue in membership when his proof of descent or eligibility shall be found to be defective.

The Council after thirty days' notice to such person to substantiate his claim, and upon his failure satisfactorily so to do, may require the Secretary to erase his name from the membership list.

The said person shall have a right to appeal to the Society at its next Court. If the said appeal be sustained by a two-thirds vote of the members present at such Court, the said person's name shall be restored to said membership list.

ARTICLE XXVII.

COMMITTEE ON MEMBERSHIP.

Four members shall constitute a quorum, and a negative vote of two members shall cause an adverse report to the Council on the candidate's application. The proceedings of the Committee shall be secret and confidential.

ARTICLE XXVIII.

EXPULSION, SUSPENSION, OR DROPPING FROM THE ROLL.

Any member for conduct detrimental or antagonistic to the interest or purposes of the Society, or for other just cause, may be suspended or expelled from the Society. But no member shall be expelled or suspended unless written charges be preferred against such member to or by direction of the Council.

The Council shall give thirty days' notice in writing of such charges, and afford such member reasonable opportunity to appear with counsel and be heard and refute the same. The Council, after hearing such charges and refutation, may, by a two-thirds vote, recommend to the Society the suspension or expulsion of such member, and if the recommendation of the Council be adopted by a two-thirds vote of the members of the Society present at such Court, he shall be so suspended or expelled, and if expelled, the insignia of said member shall thereupon be returned to the Treasurer of the Society, and his rights therein shall be extinguished or suspended. In case of expulsion, the Treasurer shall refund to the said member the amount paid for the said insignia.

Whenever, for any reason satisfactory to the Society-at-large, the resignation of any member shall be requested by resolution adopted by unanimous vote of all other members present at a meeting of the society held upon notice specifying that such resolution will be offered, and such member shall fail or refuse to resign within thirty days after notice of the passage of such resolution, the name of such member shall be dropped from the roll of the Society without the presentation of charges: and in such case the insignia shall be returned and paid for as in case of expulsion.

ARTICLE XXIX.

SERVICE OF NOTICE.

It shall be the duty of every member to inform the Secretary by written communication of his place of residence and of any change thereof, and of his post-office address. Service of any notice under the Constitution or By-laws, on any member, may be made by depositing the same in the mail, postage prepaid, addressed to such member.

ARTICLE XXX.

ALTERATIONS OR AMENDMENTS.

No alterations of, or amendment to, this Constitution shall be made unless notice specifying the proposed alteration or amendment shall have been given in writing, signed by the member proposing the same at a Court of the Society.

The Secretary shall send a copy of the proposed alteration or amendment to each member of the Society, and state the Court at which the same will be voted upon. No amendment or alteration of the said amendment shall be made unless adopted by a two-thirds vote of the members present at the Court voting upon the same.

INSIGNIA.

INSTRUCTIONS OF THE GENERAL SOCIETY OF COLONIAL WARS.

As supplemental to the directions of Article 17 of the Constitution, the General Council for the sake of uniformity has recommended the following for the guidance of members of the Society throughout the United States.

1. The rosette should be worn in the left lapel of the coat, but never in the overcoat. Where members belong to several orders or societies having rosettes, choice should be made of one rosette; more than one should never be worn at a given time. It is proper to wear rosettes with ordinary house or street dress. No rosette of any order or society should ever be worn at the same time with insignia.

2. Members of the Society may wear the insignia on the left breast as prescribed in the Constitution. But it is recommended that when the insignia of this Society is used together with the insignia of other orders or societies, the regulations of the United States Government for army officers be understood as applicable to civilians also, as follows: "The badges are to be worn on the left breast of the coat, the tops of the ribbons forming a horizontal line, the outer end of which shall be from two to four inches (according to the height of the wearer) below the upper line of the shoulder." It may be added for information, that the Government regulations further provide that "the ribbons be suspended from a bar of metal passed through their upper ends, and attached to the coat." Such bars of proper pattern can be procured on application to the Treasurer-General.

3. Persons who are or have been State Officers entitled under the Constitution to wear the insignia suspended from a ribbon around the neck, are recommended for the dignity of the Society, to so wear it. But this ribbon should be used only with a dress suit or dress uniform. In the case of a dress suit, the insignia should be drawn up to within an inch of the tie. In the case of a uniform it should hang close to the opening of the military collar.

4. Persons who are or have been General officers, or hold or have held such State officers as entitle them to wear the broad ribbon across the breast, are recommended for the dignity of the Society to wear it. But this ribbon should be used only with a dress suit or dress uniform. In case of a dress suit, it should be worn under the waistcoat; in case of a uniform, over the coat. It is recommended that the neck ribbon should not be used at the same time with the broad ribbon. When the latter is worn, the insignia may be suspended from the left breast, or appended to the broad ribbon where the latter crosses the hip.

5. The General Council respectfully points out that the prestige and influence of the Society much depends upon the enthusiastic loyalty of the members everywhere to those great principles which look for origin to American Colonial history. In the multiplication of patriotic societies representing other periods and having different aims from those for which we stand, it is deemed peculiarly important that every member should possess, and should use on all suitable occasions the emblems and insignia of this Society. It is hoped that members who may not have procured insignia already, will so do. It is desirable that care be exercised and effort be made by all members to see to it, that in whatever makes for public recognition, this Society shall stand second to none.

EDWARD SHIPPEN,
Treasurer-General.

ADDENDA BY NEW JERSEY SOCIETY.

The faulty wearing of the rosette and insignia of the Society having been called to the attention of the Council of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New Jersey, it has seemed proper to that body to add the following suggestions to members in connection with the foregoing instructions of the Treasurer-General, to the end that uniformity and a proper use of the decorations may be observed, and that the dignity of the Society may be maintained.

Note 1 (see par. 1, supra). The rosette is merely the undress badge of the Society, and should never be worn either

- (a) with evening dress;
- (b) with uniform;
- (c) with insignia.

It is proper, however, with ordinary dinner coat or cutaway or sack coat.

Note 2 (see par. 2). The insignia, as provided by the constitution shall be worn by the members on all occasions when they assemble for any stated purpose or celebration, "and may be worn on any occasion of ceremony."

Strictest propriety requires that decorations be worn only with full evening dress or with a full dress uniform. There are certain occasions, however, when members of the Society assemble as such in the morning or afternoon, when the insignia should be worn with a black cutaway or frock coat.

It is to be remembered that the insignia should invariably be suspended by its ribbon, and not detached therefrom, and that it is to be worn conspicuously on the left breast, not the left lapel.

Note 3 (see par. 3). The insignia suspended from the neck is not to be worn with the ordinary dinner coat or other coat of informal pattern. The ribbon by which the decoration thus worn is to be suspended should lie about the neck superimposed upon the white tie.

The "dress uniform" or "uniform" mentioned in par. 3 is the uniform designated by present army regulations as "full dress" with long tailed coat, and not the "dress" blouse formerly called "undress." The wearing of medals and similar decorations on the blouse is prohibited, and in lieu thereof a bit of the appropriate ribbon, about $\frac{1}{4}$ inch wide, is sewed or otherwise fastened to the coat.

Note 4 (see par. 4). The "broad ribbon" referred to in par. 4, should not be worn with dinner coat or with any costume except full evening dress or full dress uniform.

The council heartily concurs in the recommendation of the Treasurer-General that the neck ribbon should never be worn at the same time as the broad ribbon.

It should be remembered generally that the insignia of the Society are never to be worn as articles of jewelry, and that only members of the Society are at liberty to wear them.

A List

OF

Civil Officers in New Jersey

PRIOR TO

April 19, 1775.

CIVIL OFFICERS IN NEW JERSEY PRIOR TO APRIL 19, 1775.

THE request of the Council of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New Jersey, the Rev. Professor Charles W. Shields, D.D., LL.D., Chaplain of the Society, assisted by Mr. V. L. Collins, Assistant Librarian of Princeton University, prepared a list of the Civil Officers in New Jersey from whom descent is a qualification for membership in the Society. A like list, with references to the authorities, was prepared by Emory McClintock, LL.D., Governor of the Society. Comparison has resulted in the correction of errors and omissions, and the list now published is no doubt nearly correct. Many names are now irrecoverable, as the legislative minutes prior to 1703 (for the Council of East New Jersey prior to 1682) have not been preserved.

Officers who are not known to have even temporarily resided in New Jersey are omitted, as not having held office "in" the Colony. As the Constitution of the Society mentions the office of "Lord Proprietor," those proprietors are omitted who were not of the governing body; that is, for West New Jersey, all except William Penn and Gawen Lawrie are omitted, and for East New Jersey, those only are included who joined in the Surrender, or who are known to have become qualified for a share in the government by the ownership of at least one ninety-sixth part of the province.

The date given for each office is that of the first year in which the office appears to have been held, so far as has been observed from the records now extant. It is possible that in a few cases two persons of the same name may erroneously appear as one person in this list, who have held the same office within a few years of each other. Variations of spelling must be allowed for by the reader, and also aliases, such as Vauquellin and Laprairie, Dalboe and Mattson, Michielsen and Vreeland, Van Winkel and Jacobs.

HON. ROBERT STOCKTON GREEN, LL.D.

Vice-Chancellor Green was born at Princeton, N. J., March 25, 1831. He was the son of James S. Green, a lawyer and a sturdy Jerseyman whose father, Rev. Dr. Ashbel Green, was President of Princeton College. The Vice-Chancellor's great-grandfather, Dr. Green, of Hanover, Morris County, N. J., was chairman of the committee which prepared the first Constitution for the State of New Jersey, at the Provincial Congress, held at Burlington in 1776.

The Vice-Chancellor was graduated from Nassau Hall in 1850, and since then it has conferred on him the honorary degree of LL.D. He was admitted to the bar in 1853, and became a counselor in 1856. He removed to Elizabeth in 1856, and at once became interested in the movement then on foot for the creation of Union County. He was largely instrumental in the passage of the Act of 1857, which designated Elizabeth as the county seat. During 1857, he was appointed Prosecutor of the Borough Courts by Governor Newell, and the following year became City Attorney of Elizabeth. In 1868 he was elected to the City Council from a strong Republican ward, and so great was his popularity that he continued to hold the office by successive re-elections until 1873, when he retired. He was elected Surrogate of Union County in 1862, and appointed Presiding Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and County Courts in 1868. During the succeeding year he was appointed by Governor Randolph to the Commercial Convention at Louisville, as a representative of New Jersey. In 1873, he was appointed by Governor Parker, and confirmed by the Senate as one of the Commissioners to suggest amendments to the Constitution of the State. In 1884, he was elected to Congress from the Third District of New Jersey.

The Vice-Chancellor was one of the delegates to the Baltimore Convention of 1860, which nominated Stephen A. Douglas for the Presidency; was a delegate to the National Convention of 1880, which nominated General Hancock, and also to the St. Louis Convention in 1888 which nominated Grover Cleveland. In January, 1874, he became a member of the bar of New York as a partner of the firm of Brown, Hall and Vanderpoel, which afterwards became changed to Vanderpoel, Green & Cuming. He was very successful in his profession, and was ranked as one of the ablest constitutional lawyers in the State.

In 1886, he was elected Governor, after a very exciting canvass, and served until 1890.

He was appointed Vice-Chancellor in 1890, for a term of seven years, but died on May 7, 1895.

His wife was Miss Mary E. Mulligan. They had four children, three daughters and a son, of whom two daughters survive and reside in the family home on Cherry Street, Elizabeth.

WILLIAM JOHN POTTS.

Mr. Potts was born in Philadelphia on October 14, 1842, but only spent the first eight years of his life in that city, as his home after that time was in Camden until his death, which took place on November 18, 1895.

He was sixth in descent on his father's side from David Potts and Alice Croasdale. The latter as a child of nine years, was one of the passengers on the "Welcome," with William Penn when he came to Pennsylvania in 1682.

These early ancestors of his were among those who lived in caves before any dwellings were erected in Philadelphia.

He attended school in Philadelphia, and graduated at the Polytechnic College as an analytical chemist, his object being to fit himself to take charge of the large chemical works which his father had established in Camden. This was his occupation for several years. He was, however, one of those, fortunately or unfortunately, as the case may be, who did not have to work. As he was free from the exacting demands of business, he took up intellectual pursuits, taking a deep interest in history, archaeology, numismatics and genealogy. He formed an association called the "Fortnightly Club," which met at the houses of its members in turn, when papers were read and discussed.

He travelled extensively, and supplemented his excellent education by this means. He was elected a member of the American Philosophical Society, in 1885, and of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania in 1871. He was also a member of the New England Historical and Genealogical Society, and the New Jersey Historical Society, a corresponding member of the Wisconsin Historical Society; of the English Folk-Lore Society; the American Folk-Lore Society and the Pennsylvania Society of the Sons of the Revolution; a charter member of the New Jersey Sons of the Revolution; member of the Pennsylvania Society of the Colonial Wars, and a foundation member of the same Society in the State of New Jersey. He was also a member of the Academy of Natural Sciences, and of the Numismatic and Antiquarian Societies of Philadelphia.

He was a frequent contributor to historical and genealogical magazines. He had the instincts and methods of a true scholar, but the diversity of his tastes prevented his being sufficiently absorbed in any one subject to master it. Nothing was more characteristic of him than his love for books, and his experience abroad both in London, at the British Museum, and in the National Library at Paris, were most delightful to him.

His pride in his own country led him to take a very deep and warm interest in patriotic societies, as he thought they afforded the means of preserving the true American spirit, by the study of their own history.

COL. CLIFFORD STANLEY SIMS.

Col. Sims was born on February 17, 1839, at Emeline Furnace, Pennsylvania.

He held the following offices:

Assistant Paymaster, U. S. Navy, 1862; Colonel and Judge-Advocate-General of Arkansas, September 13, 1863; Lieutenant-Colonel, Fourth Regiment, Arkansas Volunteers, 1864; he was taken prisoner and held on parole until the end of the civil war; Delegate to the Constitutional Convention of Arkansas, 1867 to 1868; Commissioner to digest the Statutes, February 12, 1868; Member of the Arkansas House of Assembly and Senate, 1868 and 1869; Brigadier General in the Militia, July 14, 1868; United States Consul at Prescott, Canada, 1869 to 1878. He was President of the New Jersey Society of the Cincinnati from 1883 to 1896; Judge of the New Jersey Court of Errors and Appeals, 1894 to 1896; he received the degree of Doctor of Civil Laws from St. Stephens College, New York, in 1895.

He died at Trenton, New Jersey, on March 3, 1896.

MALCOLM MACDONALD.

Mr. Macdonald was born in New London, Connecticut, on October 9th, 1839. He graduated from Princeton College in 1861, his school days having been passed in New York City.

He studied law with Judge Scudder in Trenton at first, and afterwards with Mr. Green in New York City, in whose office he practiced for some years.

He married Anna L. Browning, on February 19, 1873, and they had three children. He died on July 10, 1900.

Mr. Macdonald had very marked literary tastes and he wrote many short poems which were published in the magazines and religious newspapers. He wrote one drama called "Guatamozin," which was published by Lippincott, of Philadelphia. His life work was, however, a chronological volume entitled "A Harmony of Ancient History," upon which he worked for fifteen years, spending much time in the British Museum and the Library of Paris, but unfortunately all his manuscripts, the evidences of this painstaking labor were destroyed by fire.

He was a member of many Societies, the Sons of the Revolution, Colonial Wars, the War of 1812, and also the Historical Society and the Genealogical Society of Philadelphia.

Mr. Macdonald was a quiet thoughtful man, and highly appreciated by the friends who really knew him.

GENERAL WILLIAM SCUDDER STRYKER.

General Stryker was the son of Thomas J. Stryker and Hannah (Scudder) Stryker of Trenton, N. J. He was born in Trenton, on June 6, 1838 and died on October 29, 1900. His early education was obtained at the Trenton Academy and he graduated from Princeton College in the class of 1858. He then read law and was admitted to the bar in Ohio, but never engaged in the active practice of his profession.

He enlisted as a private on April 16, 1861, in response to the first call of President Lincoln for troops. He was appointed major and disbursing officer and quartermaster and assisted greatly in organizing the 14th New Jersey at Freehold. He was then appointed paymaster of U. S. Volunteers, February 19, 1863, and ordered to Hilton Head, S. C., where July 8, 1863, he volunteered as acting aide-de-camp to General Gillmore. He participated in the capture of Morris Island, in the night attack on Fort Wagner, and in the siege of Charleston.

Later, he was transferred to the north on account of illness, and assigned to duty as senior paymaster at Columbus, O., and continued in charge of that post until June 30, 1866 when he resigned and returned to Trenton.

On January 10, 1867, he was appointed aide-de-camp and lieutenant-colonel on the staff of the Governor of the State. On April 12, 1867, he was appointed adjutant-general with the rank of brigadier-general. This position he held continuously until the time of his death for a period of over thirty-three years. He was nominated brevet major general by Governor Parker on February 9, 1874 for long and meritorious service, and confirmed by the Senate unanimously.

General Stryker was a wide reader and close student of American History. His large and valuable library was especially rich in Americana. He was eminent as an author, having written some of our best known historical monographs relative to the battles of Trenton, Princeton and Monmouth.

The following volumes are the results of his painstaking research: "Trenton, One Hundred Years Ago;" "The Old Barracks at Trenton, N. J.;" "The New Jersey Volunteer Loyalists;" "The Battles of Trenton and Princeton;" "The New Jersey Continental Line in the Virginia Campaign of 1781;" "Washington's Reception by the People of New Jersey in the Revolutionary War." He compiled as adjutant-general, a "Register of the officers and men of New Jersey in the Revolutionary War," and a "Record of the officers and men in the Civil War, 1861-1865." Both of these volumes are monumental records of accuracy and skill.

General Stryker was President of the Trenton Battle Monument Association and its completion was largely due to his interest and enthusiasm. He was President of the New Jersey Society of the Cincinnati, of the New Jersey Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, and the New Jersey Historical Society. He was President of the Trenton Savings Fund Society, and a director of the Trenton Banking Company, and of the Widows' Home Association; a Trustee of the First Presbyterian Church of Trenton, and of the Theological Seminary at Princeton; a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, of the military Order of the Loyal Legion; a fellow of the American Geographical Society, the New York Historical Society, and of the Royal Historical Society of London.

General Stryker was a man of peculiarly modest and unassuming character. In all his relations he was honored, and he was gifted with the grace of manner which made him a natural leader. His high attainments enabled him to do a great work, and it was always well done.

General Stryker married Helen Boudinot Atterbury, of New York, on September 14, 1870, and they have two daughters and a son.

CHARLTON T. LEWIS.

Charlton T. Lewis, Ph.D., LL.D., was born in West Chester, Pa., February 26, 1834 and died, May 26, 1904, after a brief illness at his home in Morristown. He was the son of Joseph T. Lewis, Commissioner of Internal Revenue under Presidents Lincoln and Johnson.

He prepared for college in West Chester, and graduated at Yale in 1853, taking high honors in both Mathematics and Classics.

It seems to have been his original intention to enter the Methodist Ministry; but, in 1856, he became Professor of Mathematics in the State Normal University at Bloomington, Ill.

In 1858, he was Professor of Mathematics at Troy University, and later, transferred to the Chair of Greek.

After three years, he went to Washington on the threshold of the Civil War, and for two years was Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

At the expiration of this period, he returned to New York, where he took up the practice of law. He became a leading insurance lawyer, and influenced insurance legislation throughout the United States. His mathematical ability, and his unusual powers of expression, fitted him for this career, but his wide reading qualified him preeminently for a leading position in Journalism. His contributions to the Evening Post of New York led to his being called to the Managing Editorship of that Journal, and, for a time after Mr. Bryant's death, he was its Editor.

He resumed his law practice in 1871, and was counsel for several large corporations, and for more than twenty years, counsel to the Mutual Life Insurance Company.

In 1898 and '99, he lectured on Insurance in Harvard, Columbia and Cornell Universities.

He received the degree of Ph.D. from the University of the City of New York in 1878, and the degree of LL.D. from Harvard University in 1903.

Dr. Lewis was well known as a classical scholar, and compiler of Greek and Latin Dictionaries. He performed this work without suspending his other professional engagements by exerting his patience, accuracy, and industry—a power of concentration, and of persistent labor seldom combined in one of his versatility, imaginative, and creative literary power.

For more than twenty-five years, he was connected with the Prison Association of New York, and for many years, was its President. He was, also, a member of the State Charities Aid Association of New Jersey. He was a delegate from the United States to the International Prison Congress in Paris 1895, and was a member of the Board of Managers of the New Jersey State Reformatory.

Dr. Lewis was twice married. In 1861, he married Nancy D. McKeen, of Brunswick, Maine, a grand-daughter of Joseph McKeen, the first President of Bowdoin College. His second wife was Margaret P. Sherrard, of New York, whom he married in 1885.

He was a writer and thinker of unusual power, and an orator of great distinction and force. An appreciative editorial note in the Evening Post says that "for sheer mental ability, carrying with it a mastery in several branches of knowledge, it would be hard to name a man of his generation, who rivaled the late Charlton T. Lewis. His scholarship was both precise and wide-ranging. In practical affairs, he had an eminent skill. His services, in more than one form of public charity and reform, were noted for intelligence and energy, while his talents as a speaker were of the highest. That such remarkable versatility as his should never have been called directly to the service of state or nation, seems both a regret, and a reproach."

Dr. Lewis was a member of the American Mathematical Society; the American Society of Actuaries; the Century Association; Sons of the Revolution; the Society of the Colonial Wars; and the Pennsylvania Society.

REV. CHARLES WOODRUFF SHIELDS, D.D., LL.D.

The Rev. Charles Woodruff Shields, D.D., LL.D., was born on April 4, 1825. He was the son of James Read Shields, of New Albany, Ind., and Anna Woodruff, of Elizabethtown, N. J.

He was prepared for college at the Newark Academy, and graduated from Princeton College in 1844. After graduation, he entered the Theological Seminary at Princeton, where he graduated three years later.

His first pastorate was at Hempstead, L. I., moving from this place in 1850 to Philadelphia, where he ministered to The Second Presbyterian Church until 1865.

He married Charlotte Elizabeth Bain of Galway, N. Y., on Nov. 22, 1848. His wife died on Aug. 9, 1853.

Dr. Shields married again, on Aug. 25, 1861, Miss Elizabeth Kane, of Philadelphia, who died in 1869.

He came to Princeton in 1866, where he was Professor of the Harmony of Science and Revealed Religion, from that time until the close of his career. From 1869 to 1882, he also taught the subject of History.

Dr. Shields died suddenly of heart failure, on August 26, 1904, and it came as a great shock to his many Princeton associates who had heard him respond with great vigor and eloquence to the toast of the "Old Guard," at the Alumni Dinner, only two months before his death.

His career in the University stretched through a large part of the modern period of the "schism between Science and Religion," and it was his life work to show that there was no real ground for this disagreement; that there ought to be a reconciliation, and that both sciences, when perfected, would prove to be but opposite halves of the same rounded truth.

It would be difficult to estimate the value of his labors in the Academic Chair, or to tell of how many thinking minds he saved from skeptical opinion, and led to the comfort of a reasonable faith.

Dr. Shields throughout his ministerial life was deeply interested in the cause of Christian Unity, and he omitted no opportunity to advocate this cause—in the pulpit, on the platform, and in the press. He deeply mourned the unhappy divisions of the Christian Church, and he looked forward to the time when its various branches would come together, and be connected as "The United Church of The United States."

He was an accomplished liturgical scholar, and in early life prepared and published various forms of a liturgical service, modelled after those of the book of Common Prayer.

He made many contributions to literary and philosophical science, and his productions are marked by elevation, and vigor of thought, and by a purity and grace of style, which never failed to charm as well as to inform the readers' minds.

His scholarship was polished; his tastes and feelings were refined; for he was not only a genuine but a cultivated gentleman. In his character, the Christian graces were so harmoniously proportioned, and interblended as to effect a practical realization in the man himself, of that unity and harmony which was his noble quest throughout life.

A long and accurate biographical sketch of Dr. Shields, and his ancestors on both sides of the family, will be found as an introduction to Vol. III of the great work of his life, called "Philosophia Ultima," prepared by Prof. William M. Sloane, followed by a bibliography of the books, and pamphlets, editorial work, and magazine articles, published by Dr. Shields.

Dr. Shields was Chaplain of this Society from 1899 to the time of his death; and was also, a member of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution in this State; and a member of the Huguenot Society of New York.

CHARLES BURNHAM SQUIER.

The late Charles Burnham Squier was born on February 12th, 1850. He was the third son of William C. and Catherine Craig Squier, being the grandson of Dr. David Stuart Craig.

He was educated in Dr. Pierson's school in Elizabeth and was prepared for college, but preferring a business life he took a position with the Passaic Zinc Company, and Manning and Squier who were among the first to develop the zinc industries of America.

In 1898, when the New Jersey Zinc Company was formed, these firms were absorbed by the combination and he became the treasurer and one of the directors of the new corporation, which position he held for four years, when he retired on account of ill health.

He was always interested in everything pertaining to the welfare of his native town, but he never accepted public office except as a member of the Board of Finance. He was reappointed as a member of this Board several times, and his financial ability and influence made him a most valuable member of the Board.

Mr. Squier was a man of the very highest integrity and honor, and while reserved and self contained was always unfailingly courteous and considerate. His kind heart always responded to those in need or in trouble.

He was a member of this Society for many years, and also a member of numerous clubs in New York City and in Elizabeth.

He died on October 6, 1904, sincerely regretted by all who enjoyed his friendship.

WILLIAM ALEXANDER TENNILLE.

William Alexander Tennille was born on July 3, 1840, in Washington County, Ga., and died in New York, January 10, 1905. He passed his boyhood, and early manhood at Ft. Gaines, Ga. He graduated at an early age at the University of Georgia, in Athens, and was studying law when the Civil War began. He volunteered at once, and served throughout the War in the Confederate Army. He was promoted twice for gallantry on the field, and at the close of the war, was on the staff of Gen. "Tige" Anderson, with the rank of Captain, and prized as one of his most valued possessions the Cross of Honor of the Confederate Veterans. After the war, he moved to New York, and embarked in business on the Cotton Exchange as a member of the firm of Tuttle & Wakefield.

About 1893, this firm dissolved partnership, and Mr. Tennille retired from active business, and moved to East Orange, N. J., where he resided during the remainder of his life.

Descended on his father's side from several Colonial and Revolutionary ancestors and on his mother's side, from Gen. Nathaniel Bacon, and other Virginia and Georgia patriots, he took much interest in patriotic societies. He was a member of the Society of the Cincinnati; the Society of Colonial Wars; and the Sons of the Revolution.

He married Miss Clara Tuttle, and his widow and three children survive him.

REV. ASHBEL GREEN VERMILYE, D.D.

Dr. Ashbel Green Vermilye was born in Princeton, N. J., on September 6th, 1822. His early education was obtained at the Anthon Preparatory School in New York City. At thirteen years of age he entered Columbia College and passed one year in that institution, his Sophomore and Junior years were spent at Williams College and he graduated at New York University in 1840. He then entered the Theological Seminary at New Brunswick and completed this course in 1844. His first pastorate was at Little Falls, N. Y. In 1850, he went to Newburyport, Mass., occupying the historic pulpit of Whitefield. Here he remained for thirteen years as a very successful pastor. During this period the degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Rutgers College.

In 1863 he received a call from the Reformed Church at Utica, and thus returned to the denomination in which he had been trained. He was elected President of the General Synod in 1870, and in 1871 he accepted a call to the First Reformed Church in Schenectady. Here he remained six years, and then accompanied by his wife and daughter he went to Europe, spending one year as chaplain of the Seaman's Bethel at Antwerp.

His labors were not limited to his churches but he was influential in every department of church work, his sagacity, good judgment and kindly spirit made him not only a successful but very acceptable member of every committee upon which he was appointed. This was conspicuously true of his connection with the Committee on Hymnology.

In 1890 he was appointed the delegate to the Presbyterian General Assembly on a mission involving delicate diplomatic effort in which he was eminently successful.

He married Helen Lansing De Witt and they celebrated their golden wedding in 1897.

After his return from Europe, Dr. Vermilye retired from active work in the pulpit. One year was spent in Orange, N. J., and one in New York City; then he bought a home in Englewood, N. J., where he lived over twenty years. Though he no longer occupied a regular pastorate, he labored in other fields of usefulness. He died on July 9th, 1905.

For eighteen years he was a member of the Board of Directors of the Dutch Church of New York, serving with much zeal, prudence and tact. He was a Director of the Seaman's Friend Society, a member of the Historical Society of New York, and of the Huguenot Society, the Society of the Colonial Wars of New York, and also of New Jersey. In the latter Society, he served as historian and chaplain.

He was conscientious and careful in all his preparations for duty, whether in the pulpit or elsewhere, he had high intellectual ideals and broad sympathies.

It has been well said that he was "a master of the noble art of friendship."

HENRY HARRINGTON HALL.

He was born in Boston, May 16, 1846, and died in East Orange, April 9, 1906. He was a good citizen; a broad-minded, religious, and charitable man, of a bright and inspiring presence; a man of deep convictions, and intense loyalty—in other words, a good New England type. He was a man that believed that correct business principles could never be morally wrong. For thirty-nine years he was in the Fire Insurance business in New York, being known principally as the United States' Manager for important English companies. His relations to the business were, however, wide and important, and for many years he was one of the best known fire underwriters in the United States. His knowledge of Fire Underwriting was extensive, thorough, and accurate. His opinions were highly regarded, and his counsel was widely sought. He was at one time President of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. He served repeatedly on important committees, and while never neglecting the interests for which he was responsible, he contributed freely and effectively to the advancement of the business as a whole.

One of his projects was to use the peoples' need of insurance as a lever, wherewith to bring about wiser and safer methods of building.

He was a director of the Municipal Art League, whose object was the beautifying of East Orange.

He served during the Civil War, and while on duty before Washington, was personally thanked by President Lincoln for his efficiency.

COL. MASON WHITING TYLER.

Colonel Mason Whiting Tyler, of Plainfield, New Jersey, was born in Amherst, Mass., June 17, 1840; died in New York City, July 2, 1907.

Colonel Tyler prepared for college at Amherst Academy and at Williston Seminary, Easthampton, Mass. He entered Amherst College in 1853, where he was a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity, to which his father, his three brothers, and his two sons also belonged, and in which he always took the greatest interest, being prominent in its councils, and earnestly active in its welfare. In scholarship he stood well. He was Commencement orator, and a member of the Phi Beta Kappa Society. From 1860 to 1862, he was also Class President. On July 10, 1862, he was graduated with the degree of A.B., and three years later received the degree of A.M.

Immediately on graduating, he entered military service in the Civil War, and was mustered as Second Lieutenant, 36th Massachusetts Volunteers. On August 13, 1862, as First Lieutenant, he was transferred with the Company which he had recruited, and which became Company F, to the 37th Massachusetts Volunteers. With this regiment, he served with distinction until the end of the war. This regiment was attached to the Sixth Army Corps, which was then in the Army of the Potomac. He afterwards served under Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley. He was commissioned Captain in this regiment, January 17, 1863; brevetted Major, U. S. Volunteers, September 19, 1864, for distinguished gallantry in the battle of Winchester, Va.; made Major of the regiment, March 4, 1865; commissioned by the Governor as its Lieutenant-Colonel, May 4, 1865, and as its Colonel, June 26, 1865, but could not be remustered although in command of the regiment, because the losses had depleted the ranks of the regiment below the numbers required by the U. S. Government for those appointments. He was mustered out and honorably discharged, July 1, 1865. He took part in some thirty engagements.

Col. Tyler's regiment had an enrolment of 1324 men, and lost 523 killed or wounded, 169 died of wounds (12.7%). It was one of the "Three Hundred Fighting Regiments" enumerated in Col. Fox's "Regimental Losses in the American Civil War." Col. Fox names twelve battles as the bloodiest of the war. Col. Tyler was engaged in seven of these twelve. He was wounded in the chin, September 19, 1864, and March 25, 1865, in the right knee. He served on General Neill's staff from May 15 to June 30, 1864, and was Provost Marshal at Winchester, Va., from September 19 to December 18, 1864. His regiment was the first to arrive in New York City to quell the draft riots.

At the battle of Spottsylvania, "one of the bloodiest battles in history, unique in character, sublime in the heroism displayed by the combatants on either side, which covered a small space of earth thicker with dead and wounded than was ever seen on any battlefield in modern times," Col. Tyler's regiment supported the Salient of the Bloody Angle twenty-two consecutive hours during which time "all Grant's toilers in the ditch were relieved except the 37th Massachusetts." Fifty volunteers were called for to "rush inside the Angle and drive the enemy from the traverses." Col. Tyler volunteered to lead the party, but the order was countermanded just as the assault was starting. In the Russo-Japanese War such parties were frequent and were regarded as details for death. So, in this instance, it was considered by every man who volunteered.

Col. Tyler studied law in Columbia College Law School, 1865-66, was admitted to the bar in 1866, after which he practiced three years in the law office of Evarts, Southmayd and Choate. In 1869, he formed a partnership with General Henry E. Tremain, under the firm name of Tremain and Tyler. In 1893, he formed a new partnership under the name of Tyler and Durand, and in 1903, that of Tyler and Tyler, consisting of himself and his two sons, William S., and Cornelius B.

He conducted many important cases. He was connected with important business enterprises. He was President of the Cumberland Coal and Iron Company, and director of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron Company. He was a director and Vice-President of the Rossendal, Reddaway Belting and Hose Company. But he was most active in public enterprises and benevolence. He was instrumental in founding the Plainfield Public Library and Reading Room, in 1880, the second to be founded in the State of New Jersey, and of this he was President until his death. He was promoter and first president of the Organized Aid Association of Plainfield and North Plainfield. He was also one of the early trustees of the Muhlenberg Hospital, President of the Music Hall Association, and President of the Anti-Racetrack Association of New Jersey. No matter of public interest in Plainfield went without his support. He was also one of the Trustees of Amherst College. "His was one of those rare natures who, in business or in social life, radiate the benevolences of humanity and goodness and peace that dispel the shadows of evil. He was a patriot-soldier, an honored citizen, a beloved husband and father."

He was a member of the Society of the Mayflower descendants in New York and New Jersey, and Governor of the New Jersey Society; a member of the New Jersey Historical Society, and of the Societies of the Sons of the Revolution, Colonial Wars, and Colonial Governors, and a member of the New York Commandery of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, and numerous other societies and clubs.

WILLIAM MORRIS DEEN.

Mr. Deen was born in Richmond, Virginia, on March 2nd, 1852.

His early youth was spent partly in New York City, and partly in Virginia, where his father was a rich tobacco merchant. He was intended for a military career but his father's fortune having been swept away by mismanagement after his death, in 1855, he was obliged to start in business for himself at the age of sixteen. He was very successful until some ten or fifteen years before he died.

Mr. Deen was a man of active mind and great executive ability. He was President, for some years, of the Mercantile Guaranty Co., and a director in many large enterprises.

He married, in 1876, Emily A., daughter of Thomas Andrews, by whom he had six children.

He was particularly interested in Genealogical researches, and belonged to many patriotic societies. He was Governor of this Society for several years.

Mr. Deen was a very public spirited man, and much interested in enterprises which related to his home neighborhood. He was active in school and political matters, and for many years was President of the Board of Education and of the Town Committee, he was also instrumental in building the church of Short Hills, N. J., where he lived.

The last few years of his life were clouded by illness and he died on November 7, 1909. A man of great helpfulness to others and of great personal strength and usefulness.

COLONEL DUDLEY EVANS.

Colonel Dudley Evans was born at Morgantown, West Virginia, on January 28, 1838. The first of his family came from Wales to Fairfax County, Virginia, in 1683, settling near Mount Vernon. Just before the Revolution, his ancestors went over the mountains into that part of Virginia which split off in the Civil War, and located on the Monongahela in what is now West Virginia. He entered the Monongahela Academy at fifteen years of age and was graduated from Washington College in 1859. He was engaged in teaching for one year at the Monongahela Academy and was in scholastic work in Louisiana when the war broke out.

He then returned to Virginia and enlisted as a private in the First Virginia Infantry. He served throughout the war with the Confederate forces, rising in rank to that of Colonel of Cavalry at its close. After the battle of Seven Pines, in 1862, he was commissioned Captain, and after the campaign in the Valley of Virginia, he became Colonel of the Twentieth Virginia Cavalry. He was captured near the close of the war and spent several months in a Federal prison.

He was elected to the Virginia Legislature and served from 1863 to 1865. After the close of the war he went to California, where he formed a connection with the Wells, Fargo interests, which he represented first in Victoria, B. C. and then in Portland, Oregon. He became superintendent of the Northwestern States division of the Company's business and was its real organizer in that section. In the eighties, his responsibilities were largely increased, and in 1892 he became manager of the company and was elected second Vice-President, which position he held until he succeeded to the presidency in 1902.

Col. Evans was also president of the Wells, Fargo Bank of New York, Director of the Mercantile Trust Company, Treasurer of the Batopilas Mining Company of Mexico, Director of the Citizens National Bank of Englewood, and of the Wells, Fargo, Nevada National Bank of San Francisco. He was probably one of the most widely known common carrier officials in this country.

He was a member of a number of patriotic societies, including the Society of the Cincinnati, Sons of the Revolution of New York, the Society of Colonial Wars of New Jersey, Society of the War of 1812, the Veteran Corps of Artillery of New York, Society of the Army and Navy of the Confederate States of Maryland, the Lee, Jackson Camp, United Confederate Veterans.

He was twice Vice-President of the Board of Visitors of West Point. He was also popular in fraternal circles, being a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason, a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, a member of the Lawyers Club of New York City, and of the Englewood Club.

In Englewood, he served as one of the City Board of Commissioners on Police vacancies, and was a Trustee of the Public Free Library.

Colonel Evans married Miss Nellie Seelye of New Brunswick, Canada, on September 17, 1878, and is survived by his wife and a son and daughter.

He died on March 27, 1910. In his life he combined the charming and characteristic southern courtesy, patriotic devotion, culture and refinement with the strong commercial instinct which make a man of affairs, and he possessed the lovable traits which make a man a good neighbor and friend. He lived in Englewood for about eighteen years and was highly esteemed by his fellow citizens.

AUGUSTUS LEFEBVRE REVERE.

Mr. Revere was born in 1858, and died on May 20, 1910.

He was a great grandson of the famous Paul Revere, who hung the signal light in the old North Church tower in Boston. All of his direct ancestors have had interesting histories. His grandfather, Dr. John Revere, was one of the founders of the medical department of the University of the City of New York. His father was General Joseph W. Revere, who served his country on sea and land from the early age of fourteen when he entered the U. S. Naval School at New York. He served in the Seminole and Mexican Wars, raising the first American flag over Sonoma, California. During the Civil War, he was Colonel of the Seventh N. J. Volunteers, rising to the command of a brigade at the close of the war.

Mr. Revere was engaged for years in the stock brokerage business in Morristown. He held the office of Alderman to which he was elected in 1907. He was chairman of the Democratic Committee of his ward. He was deeply interested in patriotic and social organizations, being a member of the Washington Association, the Society of the Colonial Wars, and the Sons of the Revolution, also of the Morristown Club, and Field Club, and the Morris County Golf Club. He took a warm interest in the veterans of the Civil War and was long a member of the Memorial Day Association.

He was also prominent in charitable matters, being a member of the Board of Directors of the Memorial Hospital. And at the time of his death he was a vestryman of the Church of the Redeemer.

Mr. Revere lived in a home which had been in the family for many years, being known as the Sansay House, where General Lafayette was entertained, and a ball given in his honor when that distinguished soldier visited Morristown after the Revolution.

REV. CHARLES HARRIS HAYES, D.D.

Rev. Charles Harris Hayes was born in Newark, N. J., on September 1, 1868. His early education was obtained at the Newark Academy, and he graduated at Columbia University in 1890, being a Fellow of the University from 1890-2. He then studied at the General Theological Seminary in New York City, which was followed by courses at Berlin and Halle in Germany and Oxford, in England. He received the degree of B.D., in 1897 and D.D., in 1907. He was ordained a deacon in the Episcopal church, in 1894 and to the ministry in 1896. He was made Assistant Minister at St. Mark's Pro-Cathedral, in Washington, D. C., where he served for four years.

He was, later, chaplain to the Bishop of Maine, and there became associate professor of Philosophy at Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut.

Since 1902 he was widely and favorably known as the Professor of Evidence and Christian Apologetics in the General Theological Seminary of New York City.

Among his publications are "Bible lessons on the Creed" and "Bible lessons on Christian Duty."

He was a member of the American Philosophical Association, of the American Association for the Advancement of Science; New York Churchman's Association, Newark Clerics; Member and Chaplain of the New Jersey Society of the Colonial Wars;

Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Delta Theta; and the University Club of Columbia.

He died at his home in Madison, N. J., after a short illness, on August 16, 1910.

He was a quiet, thoughtful man and a highly valued member of the Council of our Society because of his faithful discharge of the duties of his office.

JOEL FRANCIS FREEMAN.

Mr. Freeman was born in New York City, on October 12, 1836. He was the son of Alexander and Hannah Maria (Low) Freeman, and was the sixth in descent from Judge Henry Freeman (1670-1763, who married Elizabeth Bonue, a Huguenot).

Judge Freeman was a prominent figure in the early days in the province of East Jersey. He was a sturdy defender of the rights of the colonists against all encroachments of the royal governors but they recognized his worth and character in re-appointing him one of the six judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Middlesex County for a long period of years. He is buried in the Presbyterian church-yard, at Woodbridge, where he is surrounded by seven generations of descendants.

Mr. Freeman's father died when his son was in his third year, and his mother then moved to her former home in Poughkeepsie, where her son received his early education.

In 1852, he went to Cleveland, Ohio, as an employee of his uncle, John J. Low, in the stove business. Two years later he became clerk in the establishment of Silas Merchant, a manufacturer of stoves and iron work. In 1857, he became cashier for Hussey and McBride, Commission merchants, who owned a line of steamers to Lake Superior. This firm was among the pioneers in the production of crude petroleum in the oil regions of Pennsylvania and built the first large oil refinery in Cleveland. This refinery was afterwards acquired by the Standard Oil Company.

In 1863, he formed a partnership with Austin V. Cannon in a general commission business in grain, flour and produce, which continued until the death of Mr. Cannon in 1867. Six years later, Mr. Freeman disposed of this business and became secretary and treasurer of the Cleveland Rubber Co.

In 1876, he removed to New York as an assistant to William Rockefeller in the management of the Standard Oil Company, of Ohio, and upon the incorporation of that Company in New York, Mr. Freeman was made the treasurer of the Company, and remained in this position until 1891, when he resigned on account of his health. He was also the President and a director of the National Standard Insurance Company. While not engaging in active business since 1891, he has been identified with a number of corporations. He was a trustee of the Trust Company of America, and the Real Estate Trust Company; chairman of the Board of Directors of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, the Christopher and Tenth Street Railroad Company, the New York Land and Warehouse Company, the Union Investment Company, and a member of the Advisory Board of the United States Trust and Guarantee Corporation of London.

He was a member of the Union League Club of New York, the Essex County Country Club, the St. Nicholas Society of New York, the Huguenot Society of America, the New England Society, the Civics Club of Orange, the Ohio Society, the Society of Colonial Wars of New Jersey, and the Sons of the American Revolution.

Mr. Freeman married Miss Frances Maria Abbey, on December 5, 1860. She was the daughter of Judge Seth Alden Abbey, of Cleveland. Mrs. Freeman is a direct descendant of John Alden of the Mayflower party; of Jean Vassall, a Huguenot refugee in England, who equipped and commanded two ships of war against the Spanish Armada, and of William Harvey, who was sent by Queen Mary, in 1557, to declare war against France. Her ancestors were also in the Indian and Revolutionary Wars, and were prominent in the early New England Settlements.

Mr. Freeman died at his home in East Orange on November 16, 1910. He had two sons and two daughters, and is survived by Mrs. Freeman and three children, his second son having died in 1889.

He was well known in the State, and prominent in social and civil life. He took a deep interest in the work of all patriotic societies.

CHARLES ARTHUR GREENE.

Mr. Charles Arthur Greene, was born in Providence, Rhode Island, on March 8th, 1845. He was the son of Albert Collins and Sarah Theresa Thomas Greene. He received his early education at the University Grammar School, Providence, from 1859 to 1862. He went to Brooklyn in 1873, where he married Margaret M. Bromley in the same year.

Mr. Greene was a member of the old firm of Borden & Lovell, Coal Merchants at Battery Place, New York City. He succeeded to his father's interests in 1882, when he became Managing Director of the Borden Coal Mining Company, of Allegany County, Maryland. After having served as his father's aide for several years, he came to New York in 1883 when he formed the partnership which continued until his death. Besides serving the above company as treasurer and director, he held the same offices in the Eastern Coal and Coke Company of New Jersey, and the Lovell Coal Mining Company of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Greene has resided at Summit for the past twelve years, where he enjoyed a peaceful, quiet life among a large circle of friends who appreciated his many sterling qualities. He was always known as a dignified, straightforward and honorable business man, whose acquaintance was sought, because of its peculiar charm. He was also a deeply religious man, and a devoted churchman, scrupulously faithful in the performance of every duty,—a man of rare courtesy, of the old-fashioned type, so delightful because of the serene poise and courtliness so characteristic of it. He was a vestryman of the Calvary Episcopal Church at Summit, from 1899 to the time of his death, and served for several years as the assistant treasurer of the parish.

Mr. Greene was a member of several patriotic societies, the Sons of the Revolution, Founders and Patriots, Mayflower and Colonial Wars, serving our Society most faithfully as treasurer from 1900 to the present time. He was also a member of the Highland Club of Summit, and the Church Club of New York.

He passed away in his sleep on January 3rd, 1911, the victim of heart trouble, and was buried at his old home in Portsmouth, Rhode Island.
